

North Bristol
NHS Trust

Testimonial – Dr. Ramprasad Rajebhosale (Batch 2007)

Being an alumnus of Dr. Vithalrao Vikhe Patil Foundation's Medical College & Hospital, Ahilyanagar is a matter of immense pride for me. The institution played a crucial role in laying the academic and professional foundation that has guided my journey in the field of surgery. The college continues to thrive under the dynamic leadership of Dean Dr. Sunil Natha Mhaske and Director Dr. Abhijit Diwate, whose dedication to strengthening medical education, research, and patient care has significantly contributed to the institution's development and recognition.

The campus environment, enriched with natural surroundings and well-planned academic spaces, provides an excellent setting for learning and personal development. Such an atmosphere encourages discipline, focus, and academic excellence among students. A defining strength of the institution is its committed and knowledgeable faculty, who guide students not only in academic learning but also in developing strong clinical reasoning and ethical values in medical practice. Their mentorship and encouragement played an important role in shaping my clinical perspective and professional confidence.

The hospital is supported by a large and diverse patient population, offering students valuable opportunities for hands-on clinical exposure and practical training. The institution also provides well-developed hospital infrastructure with modern diagnostic and treatment facilities, enabling high-quality patient care while simultaneously serving as a robust platform for clinical training.

In addition, the campus maintains a secure and well-organized environment, ensuring safety and discipline for students, faculty, and patients, thereby creating a comfortable and focused learning atmosphere. Looking back, my time at this institution was truly formative. The knowledge, clinical exposure, and professional values gained here have been instrumental in shaping my career. I remain deeply grateful to the institution for providing a strong academic and clinical foundation that continues to support my professional journey.

Dr. Ramprasad Rajebhosale (Batch 2007)

Consultant Surgeon, Southmead Hospital, North Bristol NHS Trust, UK; MBBS, DNB, FMAS, MRCS(Eng), Mch (GI Surgery), FRCS (Colorectal Surgery) ICENI Robotic Fellowship in Colorectal Surgery, Royal College Fellowship in Colorectal Cancer Surgery

North Bristol NHS Trust
General Surgery Department